Vanguard Global Core Bond Fund

Managed by Vanguard Asset Management, Limited.

Investment Objective

The Fund aims to provide a higher total return (capital growth plus income) than the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index after the fees and expenses of the Fund.

Performance Summary (unaudited)

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements.

- From July 2025 through December 2025, global financial markets rose, buoyed by optimism surrounding artificial intelligence, robust corporate earnings and more dovish monetary policy. The Federal Reserve lowered rates three times during the period, while the Bank of England cut rates twice.
- From its inception on 23 July 2025, through 31 December 2025, the fund outpaced its benchmark, the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index hedged in US dollars, which returned 2.23%.
- The fund aims to provide a higher total return than its benchmark by actively investing in a diversified portfolio of global bonds.
- The benchmark invests primarily in a globally diversified mix of high-quality investment-grade government, corporate and structured fixed income securities with selective exposure to high-yield and emerging markets debt.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <https://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

Vanguard Global Corporate Bond Index Fund

Managed by Vanguard Asset Management, Limited.

Investment Objective

The fund seeks to provide returns consistent with the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Float Adjusted Corporate Index Hedged, a market-weighted index of global corporate fixed income investments with maturities greater than 1 year.

Performance Summary (unaudited)

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements.

- For the 12 months ended 31 December 2025, global financial markets performed well. The first part of the year was marked by volatility amid fears that U.S. tariff announcements might spark a trade war and drag down global growth. Despite those concerns, markets posted solid gains, buoyed by optimism surrounding artificial intelligence, robust corporate earnings and more dovish monetary policy. The European Central Bank and the Bank of England each cut rates four times, while the Federal Reserve lowered rates three times.
- The fund's benchmark index returned 7.08% for the 12 months.
- The United States, which has the largest weighting in the index, outperformed the index as a whole. Among other large markets in the index, Spain, Germany, Canada and France underperformed.
- By sector, bonds issued by financial institutions fared better than those issued by utilities and industrial companies.
- From a credit-quality perspective, bonds on the bottom rung of the investment-grade ladder tended to perform better than their higher-rated counterparts.
- Results by maturity were mixed, with bonds in the middle of the maturity curve posting the highest returns.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <https://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, swing pricing, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

The Central Bank of Ireland requires a schedule of material changes in the composition of the portfolio during the year. These are defined as aggregate purchases of a security exceeding 1% of the total value of purchases for the year and aggregate disposals greater than 1% of the total value of sales. At a minimum, the largest 20 purchases and 20 sales must be shown; all purchases and sales must be shown if there are fewer than 20. A full listing of the portfolio changes for the year is available, upon request, at no extra cost from the Administrator.

Vanguard Global Credit Bond Fund

Managed by Vanguard Asset Management, Limited.

Investment Objective

This fund seeks to provide a moderate and sustainable level of current income by investing in a diversified portfolio of global credit fixed income bonds.

Performance Summary (unaudited)

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements. The fund is actively managed and seeks to invest as described in the prospectus. The following performance information shows how the fund's returns compare with those of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Credit Index Hedged, a market index that has investment characteristics similar to those of the fund.

- For the 12 months ended 31 December 2025, global financial markets performed well. The first part of the year was marked by volatility amid fears that US tariff announcements might spark a trade war and drag down global growth. Despite those concerns, markets posted solid gains, buoyed by optimism surrounding artificial intelligence, robust corporate earnings and more dovish monetary policy. The European Central Bank and the Bank of England each cut rates four times, while the Federal Reserve lowered rates three times.
- For the period, the fund (which is hedged in US dollars) outpaced its benchmark, which returned 6.80%.
- For the fund, security selection in euro-denominated investment-grade and emerging markets bonds were key drivers of relative performance. Bonds issued by British American Tobacco and DVI and an overweight to Columbia and Pemex added the most value. Selection in US investment-grade bonds detracted.

All returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

The Central Bank of Ireland requires a schedule of material changes in the composition of the portfolio during the year. These are defined as aggregate purchases of a security exceeding 1% of the total value of purchases for the year and aggregate disposals greater than 1% of the total value of sales. At a minimum, the largest 20 purchases and 20 sales must be shown; all purchases and sales must be shown if there are fewer than 20. A full listing of the portfolio changes for the year is available, upon request, at no extra cost from the Administrator.

Vanguard Global Government Bond Index Fund

Managed by Vanguard Asset Management, Limited.

Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Global Treasury Developed Countries Float Adjusted Index.

Performance Summary (unaudited)

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements.

- From September through December 2025, global financial markets rose, buoyed by optimism surrounding artificial intelligence, robust corporate earnings and more dovish monetary policy. The Federal Reserve lowered rates three times during the period, while the Bank of England cut rates once.
- From the fund's inception on 16 September 2025, through 31 December 2025, the fund's benchmark returned 0.46%.
- The fund employs a passive management – or indexing – investment approach and seeks to track the performance of the Bloomberg Global Treasury Developed Countries Float Adjusted Index hedged in US dollars.
- The index is designed to reflect the universe of float-adjusted fixed-rate investment-grade local-currency government debt of developed countries (as determined by the index provider).

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

Returns are based on NAV with income reinvested.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <https://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, swing pricing, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

¹ Since-inception returns: 16 September 2025.

Vanguard Global Short-Term Bond Index Fund

Managed by Vanguard Asset Management, Limited.

Investment Objective

This fund seeks to provide returns consistent with the performance of the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Ex US MBS 1–5 Year Float Adjusted and Scaled Index, a market-weighted index of global government, government-related agency, corporate and securitised bonds, excluding US mortgage-backed securities, with maturities between 1 and 5 years.

Performance Summary (unaudited)

The Performance Summary does not form part of the Financial Statements.

- For the 12 months ended 31 December 2025, global financial markets performed well. The first part of the year was marked by volatility amid fears that US tariff announcements might spark a trade war and drag down global growth. Despite those concerns, markets posted solid gains, buoyed by optimism surrounding artificial intelligence, robust corporate earnings and more dovish monetary policy. The European Central Bank and the Bank of England each cut rates four times, while the Federal Reserve lowered rates three times.
- The fund's benchmark, which is hedged to the US dollar, returned 5.64% for the 12-month period.
- By market, the United States, which has the largest weighting in the index, performed better than the index as a whole. Other outperformers included the United Kingdom and Canada. Japan, Australia and Germany were among the laggards.
- By sector, corporate bonds, especially those issued by financial institutions and utilities, fared better than government bonds.
- By credit quality, bonds on the bottom rung of the investment-grade ladder fared better than their higher-rated counterparts.

Benchmark returns in the commentary above are in US dollars.

Returns are based on NAV with income reinvested.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <https://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

* The tracking difference between the fund return and the index return over a stated period of time can be attributed to a number of factors, including, without limitation, small differences in weightings, trading activity, swing pricing, transaction costs and differences in the valuation and withholding tax treatment between the fund and the index vendor.

¹ Since-inception returns: EUR Hedged Dist, 3 October 2023; USD Hedged Dist, 17 November 2020.

The Central Bank of Ireland requires a schedule of material changes in the composition of the portfolio during the year. These are defined as aggregate purchases of a security exceeding 1% of the total value of purchases for the year and aggregate disposals greater than 1% of the total value of sales. At a minimum, the largest 20 purchases and 20 sales must be shown; all purchases and sales must be shown if there are fewer than 20. A full listing of the portfolio changes for the year is available, upon request, at no extra cost from the Administrator.
